

Guided by the belief that leadership is key to a community's economic success, the Adel-Cook and Berrien County Chamber's have again partnered with UGA's J.W. Fanning Institute to provide updated curriculum and training for session facilitators for the 2026 class. LINC consists of six-day long sessions (1 each month) designed to expand your personal leadership skills, as well as provide exposure to resources, assets and other leaders in both communities. This is a unique opportunity for participants to learn more about their neighboring community.
